BENNINGTON BRIEFS

News of the Town and Village Told Briefly for Busy Readers.

Born Thursday, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Glen Temple of North street. The Playgroup will open Tuesday at 2 o'clock instead of Monday, as first announced.

Mrs. William Narcross of North Adams is visiting her son, Frank Narcross of North street.

Leon LaMarre is remodeling the building in the rear of his store on School street into a six-room tenement.

The Bennington shoe shine parlor is prepared to clean all kinds of straw hats, soft hats and derbies, and also to repair same.

Mrs. Stephen Shippey of Northfield a former resident, arrived Thursday evening for a visit to her mother, Mrs. John W. Clark.

To satisfy the ladies who are to be guests of the Methodist Brotherhood on Monday evening, it is planned to have another "Human Checker Board," and play the game thereon. All members are requested to invite their lady friends to be present at that meeting.

The Troy and Bennington railroad company that owns the five-mile stretch of railroad from the state line to Hoosick Junction, held its annual meeting in Troy, Thursday. H. C. Shields was elected vice-president and Thomas Vail a director. Both are summer residents of Old Bennington.

A. H. Winslow, who has been at Clifton Springs and Niagara Falls for the last few weeks, is now visiting his nephew, Frank H. Scott, at Troy until after the commencement exercises at the R. P. I. next week. Mr. Winslow is somewhat improved in health, but his physicians advise that he take no active part in his business for the next few months.

KERMIT ROOSEVELT MARRIED

Ceremony Performed in British Embassy Chapel at Madrid

Madrid, June 12.—The religious wedding ceremony of Kermit Roosevelt, son of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, and Miss Belle Wyatt Willard, daughter of Ambassador Willard, was performed yesterday in the chapel of the British embassy. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Samuel Watson, rector of the American church of the Holy Trinity at Paris, assisted by Rev. Herbert Brown of the British embassy chapel in Madrid. The maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Willard, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids were the princess of Thurn and Taxis, Miss Katherine Page, Miss Glionette Veneure de Tillieres and Miss Virginia Christian.

The bride and bridegroom plan to pass their honeymoon in the south of Spain.

HAD FAITH IN HIS IDEAS.

Jules Verne Felt the Things He Wrote Would Come to Pass.

Anything new about that wonderful man, Jules Verne, is invariably interesting. And in the Paris Temps Felix Duquesnel, who knew the author well, tells quite a lot about him that is "not generally known."

"I believe I invent possible things," Verne used to say, "which is very naive of me, because all that I write will be realized. Human knowledge will demolish the impossible." But if he believed in the realization of his imaginings his friends did not at first believe that he would be successful as an author.

One day, according to M. Duquesnel, when Verne was in the company of a number of his friends, he exclaimed with great seriousness:

"Mes enfants, I think I am about to leave you. I have the idea which, according to Girardin, is necessary to a man if he is going to make his fortune. I am going to write a romance in a new form of my own invention. If it succeeds it will be, I'm certain, the lode of the gold mine."

The friends laughed. "Laugh away," said Verne, "we shall see who laughs last." A few weeks later "Five Weeks in a Balloon" appeared and was an immediate success. He had found his "lode," which he continued to develop for half a century.—London Letter in Milwaukee Sentinel.

If all farm animals and poultry invariably were given a supply of pure water in clean utensils a good many of the ills from which they suffer would be done away entirely or materially lessened.

While salt is harmful to most vegetables, it is all right to dump the contents of the ice cream freezer on the asparagus bed. Also it should be heavily fertilized if the largest returns are to be secured.

If one-half the energy that is usually expended in yelling and arm swinging at a high school or college baseball game could be utilized in helping "ma" wash dishes and "pa" make garden some surprising results would be forthcoming.

CHILD DIES OF BURNS

Three-Year-Old Bridgewater Girl Plays With Matches

Woodstock, June 11.—Helen Houghton, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Houghton of Bridgewater, was fatally burned yesterday and died on the way to Hanover, N. H., hospital.

She was playing with matches in her room in the morning. Her parents heard her scream and rushing to the child's room found her night clothes in flames.

The child was frightfully burned but she remained conscious and her suffering was relieved before physicians started with her for the hospital.

SCORES FOR MRS. HOLMAN

Asylum Head Forced by Lawyer to Contradict His Own Testimony

Hartford, Conn., June 11.—Mrs. Elizabeth A. C. Holman of Waterville, Me., who is seeking in the United States Court here $50,000 damages for alleged conspiracy and abduction against two Hartford physicians and her former husband, the Rev. Cranston Brenton of Yonkers, N. Y., head of the Social Service Commission of the Protestant Episcopal church in New York state, scored strongly this afternoon when her counsel obtained startling admissions from the star witness of the defense.

Dr. Shailer E. Lawton, for twenty-two years superintendent of the Brattleboro (Vt.) insane asylum in which Mrs. Holman was confined until, she asserts, she gave Brenton a written confession of infidelity with her present husband, had testified that Mrs. Holman was morally and mentally impaired. With dramatic suddenness that brought the jurors almost out of their chairs, Attorney Fitzgerald produced letters and a deposition used in the Brenton divorce trial, in which Lawton contradicted his testimony as given today. He fought with his cross-examiner and many times found temporary refuge in a muttered "I can't recall," or "I must have changed my mind."

The witness admitted that the plumbing and ventilation of the asylum recently were condemned by the State Board of Health and that all the patients, both "voluntary" inmates and state paupers, were called upon to scrub the floors and walls. "It's better than having them idle," explained the superintendent.

GIRL CLUBS FOOTPADS

She Also Calls Attention of Police man to Hold-Up in New York

New York, June 12.—William Patterson, secretary of the social service commission of Philadelphia, while slumping through the lower East side yesterday, was dragged in to a hallway by two footpads who hit him over the head and rifled his pockets. The robbers were interrupted at their work by a policeman and a girl who had seen them hustle Patterson into the hallway. After a battle, during which the girl clubbed one of the robbers into submission with the policeman's billy, the pair were led off to a police station. Patterson was sent to a hospital.
